Home	Mail	Flickr	Tumblr	News	Sports	s Financ	е (	Celebrity	Answers	Groups	Mo
			Search					Se	earch
News	Home	US	World	Politics	Tech	Science	Odo	d News		•••

itemala expels ch 'abortion )'

P February 26, 2017

Members of the Dutch organization Women on Waves can be seen on the group's "abortion ship" as it visits the Pez Vela Marina in the port of San Jose, Escuintla department What to Read Next More Guatemala City (AFP) - Guatemala has expelle Dutch "abortion ship" carrying activists who h vowed to help women circumvent the country longstanding prohibition against terminating pregnancies, the army said Sunday.

Activists from the group Women on Waves hat a Bill Paxton Dead at 61 Due to Complicat been guarded aboard their moored sailboat by a Surgery havy vessel, Saul Tobar, commander of Puerto Quetzal on Guatemala's Pacific coast, told reporters.

"Notified of its expulsion from the country's territorial waters for having failed to comply wi immigration regulations" late Saturday, the cre requested permission to set sail, he said. The activists saw no patients. Billionaire Shocked:Dutch Quit His Job (

on Friday, saying the group's members lied ir entry declaration papers, claiming to be touri	E,Business Guru Sponsored 🤅 Their sts
Abortion is allowed in Guatemala only in case which a mother's life is deemed in danger.	5(
		esident 7%	Tru 629
Abortions were to be induced with two pills. Counseling, treatment and aftercare were als be available for women seeking the group's services.	Celebrities React to the Unex Bill Paxton 276 messages	xpected 12%	De 679 arrival, President Jimmy Morales ordered the Port officials ordered the activists to stay on board their ship, saying they had not declared the motive Photos of the day - February 26, 2017 of their trip and therefore could not go ashore. <sub>1 messages</sub>
- Stopping, unsafe illegal abortions -
Women on Waves says some 65,000 illegal a unsafe abortions take place in the Central American country every year.	nd
means to carry out its campaign, it would als	Onze beste soundbar ooit Zenevich said.
Ceaa AN TOOC Tifo ACke Hagk Hto - NuA Ar	on Friday, saying the group's members lied in entry declaration papers, claiming to be touri and not members of a "health organization" t aimed to perform abortions. Abortion is allowed in Guatemala only in case which a mother's life is deemed in danger. The sailboat Adelaide arrived at the southern of San Jose on Tuesday carrying 10 activists Guatemala, as well as from Brazil, Austria, Germany, the Netherlands and Spain. They had planned to offer abortions in international waters off Guatemala's coast ow five days, picking up five women at a time by dinghy. Abortions were to be induced with two pills. Counseling, treatment and aftercare were als be available for women seeking the group's services. However, following the Dutch-registered boar arrival, President Jimmy Morales ordered the government to file a formal complaint with th prosecutor's office. Port officials ordered the activists to stay on I their ship, saying they had not declared the n of their trip and therefore could not go ashore - Stopping, unsafe illegal abortions - Women on Waves says some 65,000 illegal a unsafe abortions take place in the Central American country every year. Although the group would use all available lee means to carry out its campaign, it would als	Abortion is allowed in Guatemala only in case: which a mother's life is deemed in danger. The sailboat Adelaide arrived at the southern point of San Jose on Tuesday carrying 10 activists for the day of San Jose on Tuesday carrying 10 activists for the day of San Jose on Tuesday carrying 10 activists for the day of San Jose on Tuesday carrying 10 activists for the day of San Jose on Tuesday carrying 10 activists for the day of San Jose on Tuesday carrying 10 activists for the day of San Jose on Tuesday carrying 10 activists for the day of San Jose on Tuesday carrying 10 activists for the day of San Jose on Tuesday carrying 10 activists for the day of San Jose on Tuesday carrying 10 activists for the day of San Jose on Tuesday carrying 10 activists for the day of San Jose on Tuesday carrying 10 activists for the day of San Jose on Tuesday carrying 10 activists to stay on board their ship, saying they had not declared the motive Photos of the day of The Trip and therefore could not go ashore of messages of their trip and therefore could not go ashore of messages of the day of their trip and therefore could not go ashore of messages of the day of their trip and therefore could not go ashore of messages of the day of the San	<ul> <li>pon Friday, saying the group's members lied in FBuginess Guru. Sponsored in entry declaration papers, claiming to be tourists and not members of a "health organization" the aimed to perform abortions.</li> <li>Abortion is allowed in Guatemala only in case: which a mother's life is deemed in danger.</li> <li>The sailboat Adelaide arrived at the southern is of San Jose on Tuesday carrying 10 activists from the vie learned about President Guatemala, as well as from Brazil, Austria, Germany, the Netherlands and Spain.</li> <li>They had planned to offer abortions in nternational waters off Guatemala's coast over five days, picking up five women at a time by dinghy.</li> <li>Abortions were to be induced with two pills.</li> <li>Counseling, treatment and aftercare were also Comparison Bill Paxton 276 messages 12%.</li> <li>However, following the Dutch-registered boat's arrival, President Jimmy Morales ordered the government to file a formal complaint with the prosecutor's office.</li> <li>Port officials ordered the activists to stay on board their ship, saying they had not declared the mpilye Photos of the day - February 26, 201 of their trip and therefore could not go ashore. It messages</li> <li>Stopping, unsafe illegal abortions -</li> <li>Women on Waves says some 65,000 illegal and unsafe abortions take place in the Central American country every year.</li> <li>Although the group would use all available legal means to carry out its campaign, it would also one at the souther ooit</li> </ul> ship was illegally "detained" by the military, which it accused of "obstructing a lawful protest against the state's restrictions on the Guatemalan women's right to safe abortion."

Its arrival had prompted protests by conservative conservative says Democratic Party hasn't bee as well as religious groups. bad shape since perhaps the 1920s'

"It's very offensive that this group comes here to practice abortion, which is ultimately to practice murder," said Gonzalo de Villa, president of Guatemala's Conference of Catholic Bishops.

Guatemala Evangelical Alliance president Cesar Vasquez, called the NGO's activities "crimes against humanity."

However, some feminist groups supported the campaign.

Set up in 1999, Women on Waves has generated controversy in the past.

It sent the boat to Ireland, Poland, Portugal and Spain in previous years, prompting protests by pro-life groups in each country.

The group had urged the Guatemalan government to "remove abortion from the penal code," saying it is "a regular medical procedure and a human right," and calling for access to contraceptives and free, safe abortions. Guatemala expels Dutch 'abortion ship'